RE: HIT THE STREETS WITH CAMPBELL HOUSE MUSEUM
LUCAS PLACE NEIGHBORHOOD WALKING TOUR

Saturday, June 13, 2015 at 10:00 a.m.
Starting at the Campbell House Museum

Join the staff of the Campbell House Museum for a walking tour of the site of the once-grand Lucas Place neighborhood, one of St. Louis' first private places and an enclave of Gilded Age wealth and 19th century elegance. Spanning four city blocks in Downtown St. Louis, tour participants will walk a street once lined with expansive homes, comparing and contrasting the Lucas Place of 1875 with the Locust Street business district of the 21st century.

Cost to attend for the general public is $10.00 and can be purchased online at www.campbellhousemuseum.org/events or by calling the CHM office at (314) 421-0325.

Campbell House Museum members may attend at no cost.

Since opening in 1943, the Campbell House Museum has served the greater St. Louis area as one of the nation's premier historic property museums. The house, built in 1851, preserves not only the family home of Robert Campbell—a prominent figure in the history of St. Louis and of the American West—but also the family's collection of original furniture, fixtures, paintings, objects and thousands of pages of family documents. In 2000, the Museum began a meticulous restoration project that returned the building to its opulent 1880s appearance, when the house was one of the centers of St. Louis society.
